Xact Check Embraces Corporate Social Responsibility Helping to empower individuals in developing countries through entrepreneurship

WASHINGTON, DC—April 28, 2009—Xact Check, Inc., a leading provider in online employment screening services, has extended its community service mission to include those in need in developing countries. In an effort to do so it has joined the Kiva community. Kiva is a person-to-person micro-lending website dedicated to assisting entrepreneurs in developing countries to fight poverty.

Xact Check supports numerous non-profits nationwide and encourages volunteerism and charitable contributions among their management team and staff. "As a way to encourage our staff we are matching every dollar that is contributed to the Kiva cause" says Pamela Willacy, Chief Giving Officer, Xact Check.

Recently Xact Check has contributed to individuals and groups from Paraguay, Philippines, Tanzania and Cambodia. The loans being dispersed are giving individuals the resources to improve the quality of life for themselves, their family, and their community. Xact Checks efforts to embrace corporate social responsibility will continue to grow by making meaningful volunteer activities available to its staff and by giving them the resources and time they need to actively participate.
