Xact Check Announces Industry Alliance with WOHA A mission to promote and preserve the well being of the American work force

WASHINGTON, DC—March 5, 2009—Xact Check, Inc., leading provider in online employment screening services, is pleased to announce its newest industry alliance with Washington Occupational Health Associates, Inc. (WOHA), a leading provider of occupational and environmental health services.

WOHA and Xact Check are dedicated to improving the productivity of their clients' workforces through progressive human resource solutions. WOHA promotes the strength and vitality of the American work force through medical surveillance programs, executive physical programs, and other services, while Xact Check ensures workplace security through comprehensive employment background screening and identity verification.

"A partnership with WOHA is an alignment of both company's strategic goals and furthers Xact Check's mission to operate in proactive ways on behalf of corporations and nonprofits," said Laura Grageda, Chief Marketing Officer, Xact Check. "Together, Xact Check and WOHA champion the wellness and safety of workers, workplaces, and social networking environments."

Founded in 1980, WOHA has provided exemplary occupational and environmental health services to a broad range of clients. "This alliance is a clear sign that Xact Check values the critical role of health consulting services for the prevention and management of occupational injury, illness and disability, and promotion of health and productivity of workers and their communities," stated Kenneth H. Chase, MD, FACDEM, Founder and President, WOHA.

Through innovative partnerships in the employment services field, as well as the NGO, civil society, and government communities, Xact Check aims to shape the way the average corporation, nonprofit entity, and social network community work together to maintain a healthy and productive workplace.
